Kill the City - Kill Britain

EU over-regulation will drive the City to Asia

You are invited to a panel session at Conservative Party Conference on Tuesday 9th October at Austin Court, Birmingham, 1.30pm. The panel is being sponsored by Conservatives Abroad, Singapore.

The panel will be chaired by Don Porter CBE, founder of the newly launched political group Conservative Voice - and will consist of:

Anthony Wilkinson, Chairman Conservatives Abroad, Singapore. Anthony manages a US$1bn global equity fund specialising in Sustainable Investing for Deutsche Asset Management. He has worked in the financial services industry for 23 years in London, Paris, Hong Kong, Jakarta and Singapore.

JP Floru, author, City of Westminster Councillor. Attracted by Anglo-Saxon principles of liberty and free market economics, JP moved to Britain in 1994. He founded Freedom Week, an annual seminar in Cambridge to teach UK students about the philosophy of freedom. As a Westminster Councillor, he stands for low taxes, small government, and deregulation. He is the Adam Smith Institute's Head of Programmes.

Steve Barclay, MP for North East Cambridgeshire. Prior to his election in 2010, Steve qualified as a solicitor in 1998, and worked as an insurance company lawyer for Axa Insurance, as a regulator for the Financial Services Authority, and he was Head of Anti-Money Laundering and Sanctions at Barclays Retail Bank.
